LAIRE SENIOR
SCHOOL

The bent doorhandles, cracking glass, rusted hinges render the school doors useless. Throw your body against the door and wham. The door will be dented, your hip will be dented, but you have gained admittance. The halls are easy to travel, being permanent, impersonal. Students plaster posters along the walls with tape, but the signs are soon rejected. The tape loses its stick. The posters wilt and slide to the floor. But civilized wooden doors with door knobs open into the halls. Follow your nose and your eyes and your ears; you have penetrated.

Have you ever taken a tour of this school? Stop by the counselors' offices, they always have hard butterscotch candies to make you smile. Move on. Do you know how an art room smells? The typing teachers make bad neighbors. In the middle of history class, lectures are interrupted, "And one-two-three, F-F-G, and . . ." When they type to music, that's even worse. Drop by the auditorium. A few critics will be looped among the expanse of brown chairs. Those magic people on stage are really your classmates. Through the stairway windows on the second floor, look at the playing field. The dew will stamp those who sit under the tree and visit. Go by the cooking classes. They will be delighted to sell you a gooey doughnut. If an Inquisitor stops you on your travels, haul out your threadbare permit saying, "On very important business."

Dear Harriet,

I'm so glad that you're a Belle. You have a very remarkable talent for leadership. I'm really glad you moved up when you believed that our distinction against and made a person dissatisfied with I don't even think I'll become disappointed. Keep the same of type, the same, the same going quite that you have now. You are a great potentialist. That's why I'm glad to see you. You're the kind of person that makes a difference for other people in other words, offering material. A lot of people have said that Belle is going down the drain & will be forgotten in a few years but we give like you & don't see how that can happen. We have met you so that you can make for office. Like I said before Belle never for, don't let us down.

Love,

Susan (Rep)

of knowledge."

"who am I, wisdom, and how came I to this place of horrors? what are these mighty hopes, these mountains of books, and these strange figures? what are these thoughts that come and go like a flock of doves? what are these words we compose with desire and write down in joy? what are these sorrowful and joyous conclusions that embrace my soul and envelope my heart? whose are these eyes that stare at me and pierce the very inmost recesses of my soul and yet are oblivious of my grief? what are these voices that lament the passing of my days and chant the praises of my childhood? who is this youth that toys with my desires and mocks my feelings, forgetting the deeds of yesterday, contenting himself with the littleness of today, and arming himself against the slow approach of tomorrow? tell me, wisdom, what are all these things?"

and wisdom laid a hand upon my burning brow, saying:
"march on, do not tarry, to go forward is to move toward perfection, march on and fear not the thorns or the sharp bones of this path."

life takes us up and bears us from one place to another, fate moves us from one point to another, and we, caught up between these twin, ever dreadful voices and see only what which stands as a hindrance and obstacle in our way. we live in unawareness and the dawn finds us in its embrace, but we live in constant dread of day and night.

and I said, "lead me, wisdom, until we come to a distant land, where the clouds that loomed over the horizon are not to be seen, where the people who were praying to heaven for the return of the day are now praying for the return of night."

and I said, "where are we now?"

and he replied, "we are in the field of knowledge, take heed."

and I said, "let us go back at once, for this place affrights me, and the sight of the clouds and the dawn makes weep my heart."

and he replied, "be patient, perplexity is the beginning of knowledge."

The end of the road
usually is not here rejoice. But we must lose contact this morning its very even over
and next yr
else, but
wow

Susan B.

Bear Barnett,

you are probably the best friend I have ever had.

Barnett,

the same without you, in more ways than one!!! It's really been GREAT knowing you - hope our friendship grows and grows and grows and grows! Good luck always in everything you do!

Let's keep our friendship alive this summer, get together do some-

Barnett.

Although I've known you for about 4 years I still don't know very much about you and that's strange! We've shared problems and secrets with each other & we've had our ups & downs. ~~also~~. I hope that I will always have a friend like you.

Love
Eccelle

24 Good luck with everything...

Like you once said, "a friend is someone with whom you dare be yourself." I'll always remember that and you will always be my friend.

To Barnett,
After all those
wild weekends together!
I don't know how you will ever be a belle again but I love bells
too
Love, Mike

My beautiful Barnett, What can I say? You just don't know how much I cherish your friendship! We never had a friend like you - and I praise the Lord for you every day!
We've been thru so many ups and downs together and have grown so much - needless to say, haven't a boast!! You are such a beautiful person - and I love every part of your crazy nut!
God bless you! What an understatement!
Much love,
Mary Madeline

Listen you beautiful, crazy nut! I don't think I even need to say that I'm gonna miss you like crazy when I go to leaving friends like you that make it very hard to find home. But I know at least that I'll have you here whenever I need you — and don't you dare ever forget "old Sug" and all the crazy things we used to do! Thank you for being you — Love you always,

(mildy)

I should say how real,
genuine,
smiling &
really happy
you always are — but I don't have to cause it's always beaming all
over your face. To
